Middlesex County Legislators Given Places On Important Committees In Both Branches—Senator Harris S. Richardson Is Chairman Of Committee On Mercantile Affairs — Representatives Gott And Crosby On Important Committees

Senator Harris S. Richardson, representing Arlington was appointed chairman of the Mercantile Affairs committee, member of the Metropolitan Affairs, Municipal Finance, and Towns committees while Representatives Hollis M. Gott and Nelson B. Crosby, both of this town, also received important committee appointments as the Legislature convened this week. Middlesex county in general held well in the matter of committee appointments.

With the election of Samuel H. Wragg of Needham as president of the Senate, and Horace T. Cahill of Braintree, as speaker of the House, the Legislature took on a Republican complexion which has been lacking for the past two years. Pres. Wragg gave the chairmanships of all committees in the Senate to Republicans, breaking the practice of two years ago when James G. Moran, of Mansfield, a Republican who gained the presidency after a bitter battle, which resulted in a coalition of Democrats and Republicans, and splitting the chairmanships among the members of both parties.

All Senate members of the important committee on Metropolitan affairs, are Republicans, and include Hollis of Newton as chairman, who succeeded Ex-Senator Charles C. Warren of Arlington, two years ago; Harris S. Richardson of Winchester, who represents Medford, Winchester, Arlington and Woburn; Blanchard of Cambridge and Groux of Somerville.

The committee chairman in the House are all Republicans as well. Rep. Milano of Melrose is house chairman of the Committee on Metropolitan affairs, with Babcock of Milton, Bowker of Brookline, Crosby of Arlington, Hastings of Malden, Whitton of Quincy, Morris of Everett, Baicalupo of

Commissioner Henry F. Long In Talk Before Chamber Of Commerce Deplores Indirect Taxation—Increasing Demand For More Service From Government Is Major Cause Of Rising Taxes, He Says—Industry Must Be Protected To Bring In New Money To This State, His Belief

Speaking to a very large gathering at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in Wyman's tavern last Tuesday evening, Henry F. Long, State Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation gave a lengthy, yet most brilliant and interesting talk on the theory of taxation and the part played by the individual and government in a democracy. Commissioner Long, a former member of the Legislature and former secretary to Governors McCall and Coolidge, was introduced by Earl A. Ryder, chairman of the program committee.

In opening his remarks Commissioner Long said the object of government is to service the people and what we have to pay in taxes for this service is the result of collective thought of each and everyone of us. We often hear of reducing taxes and yet everyone knows that only about eight cents out of every dollar in tax can be controlled by government, he said. The other ninety-two cents is the result of the people's sum thought of what their government should do for them in the way of service. Mr. Long continued in part as follows:

"People as a whole want service but do not want to pay for this service. I don't believe anybody would want to reduce education as we know that an educated person is one who can develop property values. These find their objective in the consumption of goods which makes for prosperity. America was the first country where the people decided to tax themselves to provide education. As people become educated and sense their importance they desire more services for which taxes are necessary.

Major Services

"Four major services performed by government cannot easily be eliminated. First, the largest in cost ($33,000,000 a year in Massachusetts) is spent for the care of the unfortunate in welfare, hospitals, etc. Second, education, which runs second highest in cost. Next in interest and debt service. Collectively we are a bit extravagant and spend money before we collect it. Finally, fire and police protection. The recent election showed that we desire collectively to do still more for the individual. We're definitely embarked for two or three generations on a program calling for further individual betterment. Being of a charitable nature we're likely to go beyond our means. There is a need for thinking on how far we should go in this direction. I do feel, however, that

An event in the theatre with such a background of sentiment that it at once assumes national importance was staged in Boston on Monday. That occasion was the reunion of George M. Cohan and Sam H. Harris as a producing firm under the long famous line of "Cohan and Harris present" and their first offering as they join forces again was a new comedy with Mr. Cohan as star. It bears the title, "Fulton of Oak Falls" and the rather novel announcements state that this is Mr. Cohan's "own way of telling the story of Parker K. Fennelly's 'Fulton of Oak Falls'." The comedy is playing at the Plymouth Theatre. Mr. Fennelly has been most prominent in radio of recent years, pairing with Arthur Allen in "Snow Village Sketches", "The Stebbins Boys of Bucks", and such popular features, but port point, "The Simpson Boys" he was well established before

The celebration will begin September 17, the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution, and continue to April 30, 1939 including the anniversary of the ratification, organization of national government and the inauguration of George Washington as first President.

A. William Platipe was appointed chairman of the Arlington committee. Mr. Platipe is president of the Chamber of Commerce. He will be assisted by George H. Grem of the American Legion; William H. Dunn, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; Jeremiah J. Donahoe, of the U. S. W. V.; Haskell Reed, of the Rotary club; Leonard P. Roberts, of the Kiwanis club; Mrs. John O. Matthews, of the Woman's club; Rev. Matthew J. Flaherty, Rev. Richard T. The national celebration will open with a banquet in Philadelphia on September 17 at which President Roosevelt will speak. This will be broadcasted over the nation.

Local High Stages Brilliant Comeback To Tie Medford Team

BY BOB FOREST

Showing indomitable fighting spirit the Arlington High School hockey team gave the Medford sextet a three goal lead and then came back to tie up the score in the last period of the game at the Boston Garden Wednesday afternoon of last week.

Billy Duffey and Captain Johnny Chipman were the spark plugs of the Arlington team. Billy Duffey was particularly outstanding at the focal point of the attack so as to be able to score when the opportunity presented itself. The final score was four goals for each team.

The absence of Larry Cousins, hard hitting defense man of the Arlington team due to sickness almost spelled defeat for the locals when the original defense allowed three goals to slip by their goalie.

In the first period Stanley scored on a pass from Riley who was behind the goal in just short of four minutes of play. Exactly one minute later Carroll slipped a pass to Stanley who was left uncovered in front of the Arlington net who tangled the strings a second time. Two Arlington men knocked each other down and blocked the vision of Dutton the Arlington goalie to let that one go by. Carroll took a nice pass from Riley and hooked another one right over the plate to ring the gong for the third time in the first period.

In the second period Chipman took a shot and Joe Flores picked up the rebound on passes from Babine and Duffey to snare the Medford strings for the first Arlington goal. Riley came right back on a pass from Shenn to again give Medford a three goal lead, and Medford went into a 4 to 1 lead as the second period ended.

The wild and woolly third period was almost half gone before Duffey ragged beautifully through the Medford team to pass to Babine who sank the disk deep in the Medford net. Adams did a nice dribbling job and slapped a pass to Duffey who eagle eyed a sweetheart right into the corner. Carroll tripped and went into the cooler for Medford and Captain Johnny Chipman scored on a pass from Duffey to tie the score and keep the fans raving about one of the greatest comebacks ever made by a team on the Garden ice.

The summary:

ADVERTISING MILK

A dairy farmer in Northern Illinois, happening into the barber shop, forcefully expressed his opinion of a state of society which gives the food producer so little for his efforts.

The barber heard him through, then said, "You won't get any sympathy from me. I drove by your farm the other night and saw a big beer sign on your silo. For two or three dollars you are permitting your silo to be used to advertise a competitive product that has already reduced milk consumption twenty per cent in this town. Why don't you advertise your own products?"

The farmer went home with something to think about. Perhaps that barber has made a real contribution to farm relief.

Bartlett School Re-Opened Jan. 4

The Bartlett School reopened this week. This is an opportune time for new enrollments in nursery, kindergarten or first grade classes. As the severe weather necessarily keeps the young children indoors, it is distinctly advisable to place them under the supervision of trained directors. Early training in correct habit formation mentally and socially, is essential to future success in school.

While it is too late for initial enrollment in the first grade, there are many pupils who entered school in September but who are not making sufficient progress to insure promotion. This may be due to unfortunate prolonged absence or the inability to receive the necessary individual assistance in a fully enrolled class. The limited enrollment in the Bartlett School's first grades permits such individual attention as to establish a strong foundation thereby gaining promotion and saving a year in school. No pupil is retained who is not sufficiently promising. This is the school's fourth season and without exception each pupil completing the first grade has successfully passed the required examinations and been recommended by the Arlington School Department for promotion to Grade II. Norine D. Casey, director, is a graduate of the Boston Teachers' College with twelve years teaching experience and a former member of the Arlington School Committee. The assistants are experienced teacher-college graduates. The highest educational standards are maintained with all valuable new methods incorporated. The Bartlett School is approved and recommended by the Arlington School Department.

Tuition charge is given in an advertisement. For further information call ARL. 6024 or visit school site at 36 Bartlett ave., Arlington.

The next meeting of Arlington Post 1775 V. F. W. will be held January 19. This is an open meeting and the public is invited. The new Hood sound picture, "The Stream of Life", also two other films, "The Flavor of There" and "Aesop's Fable, The Last Mail", will be shown. Refreshments will be served.

The Ladies' Auxiliary meets next Friday evening.

The Junior Corps meets this evening and senior vice commander Kiley, chairman of the junior corps, plans a most interesting program. A large attendance is requested.

Representative of Townsend Movement Reports Progress

After travelling through 37 states and seeing the wonderful following and activity of the Townsend Movement Roy J. Webb, large representative, thrilled a large and enthusiastic audience in American Legion hall, last Tuesday evening. He said, "You have no idea of the wonderful picture I have before me of hundreds of clubs throughout the country holding meetings just as you are every evening in the week".

He asked the business men, which customer they would prefer, one who had $30.00 a month to spend whenever they wanted to, or one that had $200.00 to spend within 30 days. Webb, kind of merchandise would bring them the most profit? Would they mind the small transactions tax? If all the annuitants in Arlington wished to buy new shoes during one month, would the shoe dealers complain?

He said, "I raised millions of dollars, to fight the World War, to cause death and destruction. The Townsend Plan only proposes to force money, again, into circulation for constructive (instead of destructive) purposes to produce goods and services. The money is here the same as it was before the war."

With the opening of a Townsend office in Washington, D. C. they are forming a Townsend Congressional club there, composed of the hundred and over Congressmen elected on November 3rd.

Miss Malda Putnam, of Malden, reported the remarkable growth of the Youth Group of Greater Boston since its inception only a few months ago. They meet every Friday evening in Hotel Bukminster, Boston. Some of our young people are planning to unite with this organization.

Local A. O. H. To Be Host To Maldenites

The president of the local Division of the A. O. H. has recently received an acceptance of his invitation to hold its next quarterly meeting in the A. O. H. hall on Chestnut st from P. Frank Shannon of Malden, president of Middlesex County Board, A. O. H.

The local Division, directed by President Luke Donohue will spare no effort to give the visiting delegation a hearty welcome on March 25.

SCHOOL OF RELIGION

The Mystic Valley School of Leadership Education began its seventh season Tuesday evening at the Tufts College School of Religion. For the past six winters the school has presented courses in Religious Education, which has enabled church workers in Greater Boston to improve themselves in knowledge and skill. This season the school will conduct its sessions on Tuesday evenings instead of Wednesday, as has been the custom in the past. The sessions will be held weekly for a period of ten weeks, closing March 9th.

ST. JAMES C. C. DANCE

St. James Catholic club will hold a dance at St. James hall, corner of Appleton and Acton sts, on Friday evening, January 15. Music will be furnished by Jack Hennessy's Band. This well known club is staging the affair as a get-together for its many friends and patrons.

The New Year's party held in the Spanish Room of the Oxford

Grille is still the talk of the town. About 150 couples were accommodated and all those present praised the excellence of the food and music. Everyone had a good time, and the service under the personal supervision of Louis was without fault.

A new shipment of attractive house dresses has just arrived at Whowell's on Massachusetts avenue. Prices are $1.00, $1.50 and $1.98.

THE GENERAL MOTORS STRIKE

The General Motors strike emphasizes the fact that this country is in for considerable labor trouble this year unless certain fundamental issues can be satisfactorily adjusted between labor and established industries.

While it appears that the main issue is based upon the question of collective bargaining, it must be apparent to almost everyone that the ultimate aim of labor unions is to bring about the closed shop.

While we believe that labor unions have done a great deal to raise wages and improve conditions for labor in many industries, we cannot subscribe to the principle that a man must be dependent upon a labor organization in order to obtain employment.

In studying both sides of the question, we believe that President Sloan of General Motors Corp. comes pretty near the truth when he says that the real issue is "will labor organizations run the plants of the General Motors Corporation or will the management continue to do so?"

General Motors Corporation subscribes to the principle of collective bargaining and has established hours and wages that are generally fair to labor and there seems no justifiable reason why an industry of this magnitude that has led all others in the restoration of prosperity should follow the dictates of a group of labor leaders in determining just how they shall conduct their business.

We believe that every man should determine for himself whether or not he wishes to join a union but if labor in all large industries come under the control of one central head, we believe the continuance of prosperity will be doubtful.

We believe that greater safety and security for workers and employers will ensue if we establish the principle that a worker's job and his promotion depends upon his own individual ability and not on the say-so of any dictator and on this principle General Motors stands and will continue to stand.

There should be no need of a worker being dependent for a job on whether or not he holds a union membership card. There should be no need of anyone paying tribute for the right to work.

In the industrial development of this country and in view of an enlightened public opinion, relations between labor and capital have continually improved and unquestionably properly conducted efforts of organized labor have done much to improve conditions of the working man.
However, when organized labor seeks to extend its power to the point where it becomes a matter of dictatorship and coercion, the laboring man is robbed of his freedom that is the right of every American citizen.

"YANKEE PEDLAR" AS MISSIONARY

The "Yankee Pedlar" of the old days who carried the gospel of New England quality manufacturers to the far corners of the earth, was cited by Ray M. Hudson, industrial executive of the New England Council in a recent address as a missionary force whose good work is still being felt by New England industry.

The new U. S. Census of Manufactures show that our six states which broke the trend of one hundred years in 1931 and made a relative gain in manufacturing as against the rest of the United States, have substantially maintained that percentage of total U. S. production through 1935, despite the quickening of major industries outside New England which were at low operating levels in 1929-33.

New England gained in total volume of manufactures from 1933 to 1935 by nine hundred million dollars.

In those old days when New England was America's only real manufacturing area 'New England-made' was a mark of quality. And that world-reputation of New England skilled craftsmanship, precision manufacture, and honest value is still a factor in the merchandising success of New England's great present day producers. Industry today is the chief wealth-producing activity of New England. More than 50 per cent of the total income from wages and salaries in New England comes from manufacturing.

That New Englanders, in every walk of life, should take an active interest in maintaining conditions in New England favorable to the continued operation of industry in this area is not only obvious, but it is good common sense, enlightened and the first essential to self-preservation for the great majority of New England's people.

THE NEWS OBSERVES

Commendable action was recently taken by the Automobile Manufacturers' Association for the simplification of advertised F. O. B. prices. By general agreement of members of the association, the will include all the usual charges at the point of manufacture heretofore omitted in quoting prices. By the new plan, the price will include the preparation charge, federal tax, essential accessories such as spare tire, bumpers. To determine the retail price in any city the purchaser may add to the published price, the transportation cost from the factory plus any state or local taxes involved.

Twenty-five hundred residents of Greater Boston are expected to attend the huge mass meeting of the Greater Boston Emergency Peace Campaign in Tremont Temple, January 12. Discussion of the anti-war measures facing the next Congress, which will be held with by nationally known speakers headed by Dr. Maude Royden, famous English woman preacher, is expected to bring out every phase of public opinion among the groups of clubs, churches study groups and young people's organizations that are sending delegations to the meeting.

Automobile fatalities in Massachusetts last year increased over the year 1935, nation-wide figures show. New York State showed a decrease. Here's hoping we'll do better this year.

State Treasurer Charles F. Hurley took office as Governor, succeeding James M. Curley, yesterday. The change is hailed with optimism; a great opportunity lies ahead of our Cambridge neighbor.

Attorney-General Paul A. Dever ruled that "there was not a semblance of validity" to the action of Governor Curley and Council in voting to award $135,000 to the George A. Fuller Co., on its claims for "extras" in constructing the Cambridge-Concord turnpike which runs along the Arlington-Belmont line. All of which must have displeased the Governor, and pleased all who might still cling to the idea that the Attorney-General would not dare over-rule any of Curley's actions.

Children in Tonawanda, N. Y., gave their Christmas trees a much more honorable end than the ash can. Trees, with decorations and lights removed, were hauled to a playground and in the presence of firemen, were set afire. Christ-

ARLINGTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

WILLIAM WHOWELL

Since our last meeting, William Whowell has passed to the great beyond. Our President has deputed to us the sad duty of drawing up this Memorial.

William Whowell was a member of this Association for many years, and as Chairman of the business division, was very active in bringing to the citizens of our town, the advantages of trading with the Arlington stores.

"Billie," as we liked to call him, and as he preferred to be known by his friends, was a man of genial disposition and of a kindly nature. He was always ready to help a friend.

As a man in business, he was one of the old fashioned "kind," one who gave his personal attention to his customers' wants, strictly honorable, and honest in all his dealings.

We deeply grieve that our Lord and Savior has in His infinite wisdom, taken him from us and to Himself, in the flush of his manhood.

We shall miss him and we feel his loss a very personal one. The Center will never seem just the same without him. To his dear wife and helpmate, goes our sincere sympathy for the loss of a lovable and devoted husband.

May we so live that when each of us shall cross over the Valley into the great beyond, our friends will feel our loss as keenly as we now feel the loss of our friend, William Whowell.

DRAMA FRIENDS TO GIVE POPULAR SAVOY OPERA

With final rehearsals in progress almost nightly, plans are now completed for the fifth annual Gilbert Sullivan presentation of the friends of the drama. The Savoy opera selected this year is the perennial favorite, "The Pirates of Penzance."

A cast made up entirely of club members of the organization will sing the "Pirates" on the evenings of January 27, 28, 29, and 30 at the club house on Academy street. Over fifty people are included in the cast and chorus, including the famous "Pirates" and "Policemen," and an orchestra of 18 will accompany the performances.

New singers to be heard in principal roles this year include the radio tenor, Jack Beauvais, who will sing the role of Frederic. Another new-comer to the organization is Robert Rutledge, a bass baritone, whose singing of the "Pirate King's" song is one of the highlights of the performance. Dorothy Robinson, a contralto who will sing the role of Ruth, is also a new-comer to the organization, as is Kathleen Howard, who sings the role of Edith.

Favorites from previous performances who will again be heard this year, include Marie Timmons, singing the role of Mabel. Miss Timmons is well remembered for her performance in the title role of "Princess Ida" last year, and has been heard throughout the fall and winter as soprano soloist with Terry O'Toole's program over the Yankee Network. Mildred Anderson will be heard as Kate.

The men's roles in the "Pirates" include Hugh Curry as Major-General Stanley, Warren Ford as Samuel, and David Kennedy as the Sergeant of Police.

The entire production is again this year under the direction of Edward W. Center, who has presented the previous four Gilbert and Sullivan productions for the Friends of the Drama. The scen-

Car Crashes Against Pole When Driver Falls Asleep; Alarm Sounded

A stray blow on the fire alarm system was sounded when an auto operated by Paul McNally, of 22 Cedar ave., crashed into a pole at Massachusetts ave. and Prentiss rd., early New Year's Day. The alarm box on the pole was put out of commission by the force of the collision.

The accident happened when McNally fell asleep at the wheel alarm box on in the pole was put out of commission by the force of the collision.

Garden Club To Have Family Night Tonight

"Family night" will be observed by the Arlington Garden Club this evening at 7 o'clock in Robbins Library Hall. The meeting will be open to the families and guests of the members, also to the waiting list and the members of the Junior Garden Club.

The feature of the evening will be an illustrated lecture on "The Realm of the Honey Bee" by Prof. George A. Meigs of the Essex County Agricultural school at Hawthorne.

The lecture is instructive and entertaining and has proved very popular wherever it has been given. A large attendance is expected.

The Arlington Italian Women's Literary club will meet in Wyman's clubroom this evening at 8 o'clock.

"Pride and Prejudice" Coming To Colonial

A caustic comedy of manners, with scenes laid in England in the pre-Victorian days, is "Pride and Prejudice," the dramatization by Helen Jerome of Jane Austen's world famous novel which Max Gordon will present at the Colonial Theatre, Boston, for three weeks beginning Monday, January 11th, with matinees on Thursdays and Saturdays.

Several generations of readers have revelled in the romance, charm, wit, humor and irony of the story, which set a new fashion in novel writing in the early years of the 19th Century; and playgoers of New York were equally delighted by the dramatization during its all season run at the Plymouth Theatre.

In the days of "Pride and Prejudice" any young woman who was not married before 25 was pityingly looked upon as a hopeless spinster. The plight of a mother with a brood of daughters to marry off, especially if they are inclined to be "choosy" may be imagined. Such is the predicament of Mrs. Bennet in this story, and with pride on part of one of her daughters, and a lack of it on part of another, and prejudice as well as pride in some of the eligible swains and their families, she has a trying time of it indeed before getting three of them off her hands.

Such a play depends much for its effect upon cast, direction and production, and in this respect, Max Gordon gave of his best. Joy Meizner's settings and costumes reflect the atmosphere and spirit of the time, and Robert Sinclair's direction caught the mood and manner of its people.

Trinity Baptist C. E. Hears Talk By Mr. Lemke

Trinity Baptist Christian Endeavor Society met last Sunday under the leadership of Miss Betty Nightingale. John Jones led the song service.

Following a violin solo by one of the pioneers Thomas Hilson, a very interesting subject was presented by Carl Lemke.

The title of the subject was, "Life Immortality and Christianity."

Next Sunday at Trinity the young people are planning a candle-light and consecration service.

Special music has been planned and a very impressive program is assured.

Florida Booming, Says Rev. Mr. Feagan, Back From Winter Vacation

Rev. and Mrs. Grady D. Feagan and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Gilmour and son, William, have returned from a brief vacation in Florida. The party left here December 20; made the 1500 mile trip to Jacksonville in 48 hours and returned last Saturday after a perfect trip with no trouble of any kind experienced. Rev. and Mrs. Feagan accompanied the Gilmours.

Rev. Mr. Feagan was enthusiastic in his account of the trip. He told of fishing from a trawler in the Bay of Biscayne off Miami and catching two fine snappers. However, as a fisherman, he was outclassed by two sisters of Mrs. Feagan who caught fifteen fish on the same trip. Surf bathing and a ride through Florida's orange belt in all its glory were among the enjoyments experienced on the trip.

Miami and Florida in general are booming, according to Mr. Feagan, and tourists who are flocking to the southern resorts are most optimistic. More tourists are staying in Florida than in any years since the depression, the pastor of the First Baptist Church told the NEWS.

Prescott Baston Now Busy On Four Murals

Working on four murals for the Port Authority of Boston, Prescott W. Baston, 27 year old Arlington artist has already used 35 pounds of paint, at least 200 square feet of sail cloth, several gallons of glue and about two years of time.

The work is being done in his Court street studio as a Federal Art Project. The murals reveal the Boston Harbor as it is today and commemorate its historic growth.

Two Minor Accidents Day Before Holiday

Trucks operated by Harold H. McLaughlin, of Roxbury and Daniel Mooney, of Neponset were damaged when they crashed in front of 801 Massachusetts ave., the day before the holiday. The operators escaped injury. Cars operated by Wilfred F. Booth, of 3 Homestead rd., and Clinton K. Porter, of Easton, were considerably damaged when they collided at Herbert rd and Chandler at the same day.

TWO PLANS TO CONSIDER WHEN BUYING OR BUILDING A HOME

- 1.—Co-operative Bank Mortgage Plan:—
Term 12 to 13 years.
You save regularly towards the mortgage in small amounts through taking out serial saving shares. These shares, together with the dividends they earn, build up a total value equivalent to the amount of the mortgage and are then cashed to pay off the mortgage.
- 2.—Direct Reduction Plan:—
Term—5 to 20 years.
Under this plan each principal payment is used to reduce the amount of the mortgage and subsequent interest payments are thereby reduced.
The payments on account of principal do not participate in the bank's dividend earnings as under the Co-operative Bank Plan, but on the other hand the mortgage is paid off at a fixed date which does not depend in any way upon the earnings of the bank.

BUSINESS MEN MEET; TOUCHING TRIBUTE PAID LATE WILLIAM HOWELL

A most fitting and touching tribute in memory of the late William Howell, prominent Arlington business man who passed away recently, was paid by his business associates at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in Wyman's tavern last Tuesday evening.

President A. William Platine called upon Arthur Birch who presented a resolution drawn up by a committee of three, James O. Holt and Robert W. Murphy serving with Mr. Birch. At the conclusion of the reading, lights in the hall were dimmed and from a remote part of the hall came the blended voices of a quartet singing the hymn, "Abide With Me." Members of the quartet were O. Walter Swenson, Parker Wood, Franklin P. Hawkes and Arthur J. Mansfield. The brief yet most impressive tribute was indicative of the esteem in which the late president of the Chamber of Commerce was held.

President Platine, during the business meeting, introduced the new members of the Chamber, Mrs. Catherine Thibodeau, William Golden, Donald McLeod, Thomas F. Murphy, Harry S. Briggs, Charles M. Stevens and Richard Donovan. The application of Daniel M. Hooley was also received.

Two appeals for humanitarian purposes were made, the first by Joel Eastman who spoke in the interest of the Greater Boston Community Fund Campaign which starts January 25. He spoke of the role played by the individual in government and humanitarian agencies. "Democracy will be sustained so long as each contributes his share to the welfare of his fellowmen. This appeal is a call to the service of America and of mankind. The Community Fund campaign is our combined problem," Mr. Eastman said. He then quoted figures showing how Arlington people are served by Boston hospitals which will benefit from the forthcoming campaign.

Frank M. Lansing, made an appeal for the support of the President's Birthday Ball to be held in Robbins town hall on January 30. He described how the money derived from last year's President's Ball was spent in Arlington and at the Warm Springs Foundation to fight infantile paralysis. He explained that the money derived from the Ball is also used to underwrite the clinic being conducted by the Arlington Visiting Nursing association. Mr. Lansing urged all to attend the coming ball, not only to help this good cause but to enjoy the entertainment which will be provided.

LOOKING INSIDE

The old yankee spirit is not dead in Arlington. It seems that the Town is going into the "swapping" business. Here is what it is all about. Since the new Concord Turnpike was built it has been found that bits of Arlington are first on one side and next on the other side of the Pike. This is bad because of the difficulties of carrying streets thru to the whizzing autos. Anyhow it seems a good idea if Cambridge and Belmont care to co-operate. There are a couple of spots that we do not propose to swap. One is the area between the Lake and Lake street and the other is the area up in the Arlington - Belmont - Lexington corner beyond the golf club grounds.

P. S. To all of us who have seen State Roads abandoned in part and new sections built a long way from the original road would it not be a good joke on the two Towns and one City if after we complete this above swap the road was moved and we had to do it all over again?

P. S. S. The Citizens Committee has organized for the coming election. There are a couple of dangerous spots to be ironed out. More later.

Skids Cause Two Car Accidents; Oil Truck Overtakes On Highway

Rain and snow caused two automobile accidents here yesterday afternoon. A car operated by Robert A. Repetto, of Somerville, collided with a truck driven by Charles Nabighian on Broadway at Franklin street.

On the new turnpike near the Arlington-Cambridge line a large oil-truck operated by Joseph Plotte, of Somerville skidded and overturned. A considerable amount of oil spilled over the roadway and sand was immediately ordered by the company owning the truck. Sand was spread over the pike to prevent further accidents.

Town Salaries Being Studied

Many recommendations will be made to the annual town meeting by the special committee which is now investigating town salaries, it is understood. The committee, headed by G. Bertram Washburn, is meeting regularly each week and studying salaries received by all town employees.

Last week, the committee interviewed Sealer of Weights and Measures Allan E. Cowie and this week the school committee is scheduled to meet with the committee to discuss salaries.

Several Features At K. of C. Meeting Held Here Last Evening

State Deputy Patrick J. Moynihan was tendered a reception by Arlington Council, K. of C., at Ye Lanteron hall, last evening.

The meeting was made interesting, first with a presentation of new service emblems to the Past Grand Knights of the Council; a reception to the local clergy; a message from District Deputy Leo C. Donahue, and an entertainment and collation.

Two Dogs Lose Life After Breaking Through Ice On Heights Pond

This ice on the heights reservoir brought death to two dogs yesterday. The first drowned shortly after ten o'clock A. M. The dog was seen struggling in the icy waters after he had broken through the ice and a call was made to police headquarters. When officers arrived in a cruising car, the dog had disappeared.

Within an hour later a resident living on Lowell street, opposite the reservoir, saw a second dog struggling to reach shore. The police station was again called and Officer Zwick hurried to the scene with the police boat. The boat was launched immediately. The dog was about thirty five feet from shore when rescued by police with the aid of several citizens.

The pet was taken to a nearby home but died a short time later. The dog was owned by Raymond Merrill.

Paul Cunha's Essay On Printing Judged Best Out Of Thirteen

In a nation-wide essay contest printing, sponsored by the International Printing Ink Corporation in cooperation with the National Graphic Arts Education Guild, Paul Cunha of the Arlington Senior High School printing department is winner of the first local prize, it was announced this week. Thirteen local students entered the contest. The essays were submitted to Mr. Arthur, instructor of printing at the local school, who in turn submitted the papers to a board of judges comprising Dr. Clarence H. Dempsey, superintendent of schools; Harold B. Wood, publisher of the Advocate; and Arthur J. Mansfield, publisher of the NEWS. The essays were judged by numbers and each judge made his own selection of the three best essays. Winner of second prize was Fred Donnelly and of third place, Peter O'Sullivan.

The authors of these three best essays will receive a set of "Three Monographs on Color" and special certificates of award to be presented during Printing Education Week. The school committee will later select the best essay of the three and this will be entered in the national competition.

The writer of the best essay among all those submitted from all over the country will receive a $400 scholarship to Carnegie Institute. School of Printing and a position in the International Printing Ink Corporation when he finishes school, as well as a trip to New York. The runner-up will win a trip to New York.

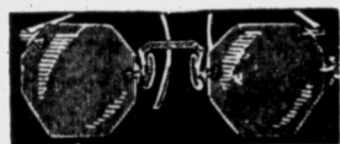

Local pupils who entered essays were Bernard Forest, Robert Shea, John Bulger, Joseph Guange, John Constantine, Herbert Law, Daniel McGurl, William Silk and Robert Casalon, in addition to those mentioned above.

Following is the winning essay, by Paul Cunha in the contest recently conducted at the senior high school.

The Importance Of Color In Printing

The importance of color in printing is that it is a great asset to the one who employs it. Printing is no longer a study in black and white, it has been divided into two classes, the color class and the black and white. Color printing has been so developed that the masterpieces of great artists have been copied so well that they bring out almost the same tones of colors as the originals. Printing was practically at a standstill till color was introduced. The magazine that used it first, doubled its circulation. Now days every magazine of any importance has sections of it done in color. The leading newspapers of the country have a colored section in their Sunday issue, besides the colored comic section.

Business and Financial Outlook for 1937

By ROGER W. BABSON

(The News takes pride in presenting the following articles by Roger W. Babson exclusively in Arlington. We believe it will prove most helpful to our many readers.)

Babson Park, Mass., January 1, 1937. I predict that 1937 will be our first year of real prosperity since 1929. It will be a year of genuine business expansion, considerable real estate activity, constant labor troubles, shortage of skilled workers, rising prices and living costs, and brisk retail trade.

Nearly every line will enjoy good gains in both volume and profits. The heavy industries showing the greatest percentage improvement. Tuck this forecast away for a check-up next December and I predict that you will find general business around 8 per cent above today's figures and not far from the 1929 peak!

BUSINESS AT NORMAL
A year ago at this time my forecast was: "By next Christmas general business as measured by the Babsonchart, should be hugging the 'X-Y' Normal Line and heading into another period of prosperity." Statistically, that is exactly where business is today. We are right square on the normal!

For the first time in fourteen years, we are crossing the "X-Y" Normal Line on the way into a new prosperity era. A moment's retrospect shows the tremendous distance that we have covered since we touched bottom in March, 1932. The total gain in business has been 78 per cent! Nearly a third of this rise has come during alone.

1936 REMARKABLE YEAR
The year just closed has been a remarkable one in many ways. While it is generally believed that elections do not change the basic course of business, most analysts concede that they are temporarily upsetting. The tide of recovery was running so strong in 1936, however, that it swept over every obstacle and washed out the old year in a burst of glory.

There are scarcely any figures on record that can match 1936's steady gains in jobs, payrolls, industrial activity, profits, and dividends. Topping off the year was a real post-election boom. Wave after wave of wage boosts and bonuses and dividend increases and extra lifted Christmas trade back to old-time levels.

8 PER CENT GAIN FOR 1937
The momentum picked up by this surge of buying will carry into the New Year. Business in 1936 was good. Business in 1937 will be better. My estimate is for a 10 per cent gain in the first six months over the initial half of 1936. It is harder to make a definite prediction for the second half, but I think a 5 per cent gain over the closing months of the old year is within reason.

This would put my Babsonchart Index about 5 per cent above normal by the Fourth of July and approaching 10 per cent over normal by next Christmas. The entire year's gain should average about 7 to 8 per cent above 1936. Business will be above the X-Y line in other words, in a prosperity era — for the first entire twelve month period since 1929! Unless—

LABOR HOLDS WHIP-HAND
It is seldom that there is no "unless," 1936 was an exception. Then there was no "but" to my bullishness. Today, however, there is one major question in my mind — the labor problem. If this issue is not handled properly, business could receive a very rude setback. Workers are in the most strategic position today they have ever held.

Labor leaders can prosper in a knot if they call a general walk-out or they can give prosperity a boost if they keep their heads. Do not misunderstand me. I am not predicting grave national labor tie-ups, even though some current situations do look threatening and even though there will be a big increase in the number of strikes. I merely say that if labor leaders try to push too far and too fast in their demands for higher pay and shorter hours, we are in for serious trouble.

FOUR NEW FACTORS
There are four new factors in the picture today which give labor such a strong hold on industry. First, is the tremendous gain in industrial production and profits. Second, is the steady rise in living costs. Third, is the big gain in labor's influence as indicated by the election results. Finally, there is the "powder-keg" row between the Lewis and Green factions. These factors, particularly the latter, all increase the tension of the situation.

The real key to this puzzle is the Administration and its policy toward labor. If trouble should develop, Mr. Roosevelt with his almost unanimous backing could swing the tide of battle in whichever direction he wished. Because of the President's unprecedented worker-following, the outlook for labor troubles depends to a large extent on Washington.

CONGRESS NOT HARMFUL
In fact, much depends on Washington as far as most problems are concerned. Not so many years ago it was the vogue to take careful soundings in Wall Street before making an annual forecast. Today the most important preparation for my outlook letter is to drop the lead-line in the Potomac. A fortnight before Christmas, I visited the Capital. Experienced observers there believe that the President may have more trouble than the public imagines in holding his huge Democratic majority together.

The Washington consensus is that Congress will not be harmful to business in spite of the voters' roar of approval of the New Deal. There will be a lot of barking but little biting. The emphasis of the coming session will be on perfecting legislation already passed and adding a few amendments thereto. I doubt if a harmful new reform law will be jammed through.

BOND INFLATION TO CONTINUE
It will be two years before another election, and the average Congressman will be worrying less about his constituents and more about the Constitution. Along this

YOUR 1937 BUSINESS POLICY

The successful business man, merchant, banker, worker, investor, or householder is the one who adjusts his attitude to meet changed conditions. When conditions are uncertain, as they have been in recent years, cautiousness is the correct policy. Today, however, the road is clear ahead. This is the time for action. Avoid being caught by rising prices and business as you were caught by falling prices and business in 1929. The depression is over. Stop thinking about it. Get the new prosperity viewpoint if you want to be successful in 1937!

line, I expect to see a big improvement in federal finances. An effort will be made to cut expenses. Relief aid will be continued but not on the boondoggling scale of the past three years. The government's income should rise steadily as 1937 works along. But despite Washington forecasts to the contrary, I doubt if the gain in revenue or the slash in expenditures will be sufficient to bring the budget into balance by June 30, 1938.

This means that inflation will gain ground this year. It has already taken big strides in recent years although the general public is entirely unaware of it. Public debt has grown $16,000,000,000 since July 1, 1930. Tax receipts have doubled since 1933. Still the Treasury is forced to raise funds to pay the public bills by selling government bonds. This money finds its way into the hands of the jobholders or contractors' deposits. The bank then "invests" these deposits by buying more government bonds.

The cycle repeats itself over and over again, building up bank deposits and ballooning the public debt. This is camouflaged inflation. It will continue in 1937 aided by another form of inflation — the check or credit type, similar to that which we had in 1929. When all is said and done, every one of the various inflation has the same effect — the boosting of prices and the speeding up of business and building activity.

HOME BUILDING BOOM

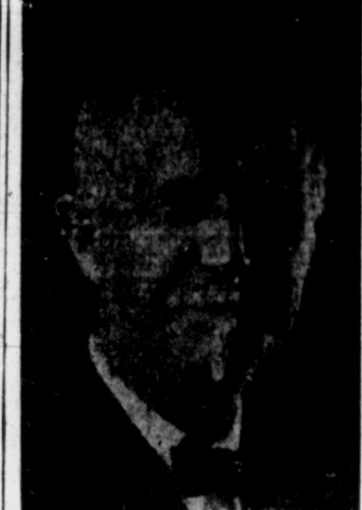

Four years ago, the building of a new home or factory was a relatively rare sight. Only eight homes were built at the depression low in 1933 where a hundred were built in 1929 and where fifty are being built today. Home building is a typical capital goods industry. It is a direct thermometer of public confidence. Once confidence returns there is a veritable stampede to take advantage of real estate bargains and to get under the wire on building costs. A feature of 1937 should be a real boom in home building.

Non-residential construction, aside from public works, should also enjoy a big gain. Plant expansion or modernization is a necessity for many concerns. Prices of building materials are on the verge of a sharp mark-up. Demand for skilled building mechanics will soon be reflected in higher bids on jobs. Bargain hunting in existing structures are pretty well picked over. If you must modernize, renovate, repair, or build, let out your contracts NOW!

EXTEND LEASES NOW
The same applies to rents. If you have a favorable lease extend it NOW for a five-year period. After a 10 per cent advance last year, rents will probably increase another 5 per cent in 1937—maybe more in well-located areas. With the optimistic prospects for building and rents, I look forward to a profitable year for real estate men with rising values and with activity at least 20 per cent above 1936.

The outlook for real estate and building is typical of the outlook for all capital goods industries such as locomotives, ships, power stations, and machinery. These businesses are due for a much but those who use oil should make contracts now as protection against a 10 per cent advance.

1937 SALESMAN'S PARADISE
Merchants can honestly plug the "Buy Now—Higher Prices Coming" appeal in their advertising. Salesmen can safely jack up their sale quotas and advertising appropriations by at least 10 per cent—probably 20 per cent. The sales feature of 1937 will be the return of the sellers' market for the first time since 1929.

Every hour of effort and every dollar of expense put into selling work in 1937 will return what two did in 1934 and what two may in 1937. I urge every sales manager and every salesman to work his head off in 1937. Get your reward for all the hard work of the past few years. Sunny selling days will not last forever!

BEST SALES AREAS
Results will vary, of course, in different sections. Back in 1933 my sales map showed only one gold, or excellent state and thirty blue or poor states. Today this same map shows twenty gold states and only two blue states. During the past two years, agricultural sections have been the salesmen's best bet. Although farmers should continue to be good customers, the industrial centers, particularly in the Northeast, Middle Atlantic, and Middle Western areas will again come to the fore.

Remember, however, that the Southeast, Southwest, Pacific and Mountain areas are our fastest growing markets. The great opportunities for future growth and expansion are there! Keep this fact in mind when you are making up your sales quotas or when you are investing in stocks and bonds.

BONDS AT CEILING
Bond prices are the most amazing factor in the security markets today. They are selling at the highest prices in history. Since June, 1932, the yield of the average bond has dropped from 7 and a half per cent to 4 and an eighth per cent. The 1937 outlook for bonds depends almost entirely on the course of money rates. My forecast is that the latter will continue at current levels until the government refunds all its short-term debt into long-term issues at about 2 and a half per cent. After that, rates will depend more upon the commodity prices and general business.

Hence, I feel that present high bond prices cannot continue indefinitely. Those buying bonds during the coming twelve months must exercise extraordinary care and judgment to avoid getting burned! With higher money rates a certainty sooner or later, I feel that the general bond market is today where the stock market was in 1928.

BULL MARKET NOT OVER
The outlook for money rates is a big influence also on stock prices. Plentiful returns on savings bank deposits, bonds, mortgages and high-grade preferreds will not coax money out of good sound stocks. The tremendous volume of money seeking investment (a billion dollars in December alone) will prevent too big a stock sell off. 1936 dividend increases and extras, plus possibilities of still higher earnings over the next few years, give well-chosen stocks added attraction to those who want protection against a rising cost of living.

In spite of the 30 per cent gain in stock prices during the last twelve months, I believe that many stocks are not over-valued. There may be periods of backing and filling, but the basic trend is still upward. The bull market which began on July 8, 1932 has not reached its peak.

GOOD SELECTION VITAL
While the general pattern of the stock market should be upward, prices of individual groups will pay even greater premiums this year than last. Biggest gains will vary greatly. Good selection percentage will be shown by the HEAVY INDUSTRIES, MACHINERY, RAIL EQUIPMENT, BUILDING MATERIAL, ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT, STEELS, METALS, and OFFICE SUPPLIES will be in the vanguard.

CHEMICALS AND OILS will continue their basic growth. RAILS may be a feature market-wise as the year progresses, but AIRLINE issues offer better long-run possibilities. FOOD, DAIRY, MEAT PACKING, PAPER, COAL, TEXTILE, DEPARTMENT STORE, and MOTOR groups are all due for moderate gains. Even the CHAIN STORES and UTILITIES should not be overlooked. They would probably stand up best against a quick sell-off brought about by some major disaster such as the exploding of the foreign bomb.

NO WAR IN 1937
No one can deny that the overseas situation is critical. Europe and Asia today closely resemble the armed camps of 1912-14. A general war involving Fascism vs. Communism is inevitable; but a general European War will not come in 1937. There will contin-

AHS Wins Opener In Basketball; Crushes Melrose

By ERIC ALEXIE

Coach Bill Lowder made a great comeback by coaching the Arlington High basketball team to a 43-18 victory over its arch rival Melrose High at the High school auditorium, last Tuesday afternoon. The Arlington Seconds won by the score of 21-11 with Thomas high scorer for Arlington with nine points.

Win Oliverio opened the first team game by looping a basket after a minute of play. Lindburg immediately tied the score, but "Long John" Cashman placed Arlington in the lead by taking a Clarke rebound and sinking an easy push shot. Baskets by Burke and Corbett placed Arlington further in the lead from which point they were never headed. The score at the end of the first period was 11-4, Arlington leading.

Melrose staged a desperate attack on the Arlington basket to open the second period. After about fifteen shots had failed to go into the basket, Corbett sneaked the ball away and scored. Melrose scored but three points in this period while Arlington was scoring ten.

Coach Lowder used eight subs during the second half but Melrose was unable to score more than eleven points as against 22 for Arlington.

The local team displayed great talent and should give Chelsea a great scrap when the Red Devils invade Arlington tonight.

HARDY SCHOOL P. T. A.

ultimately we will have a stronger nation if the individual is raised to a higher level.

Satisfied to Pay

"The second aspect of the tax picture, and it is a real problem, is that people do not want to see the taxes they pay. If we could lay before the citizen the indirect taxes he pays and let him see how much he is paying in proportion to what he receives we would have a different picture. The idea that people have in asking that public utilities be taxed more heavily is erroneous because utilities only pass the tax along to the consumer if possible. The ideal tax system would be approached if we had a direct tax so that everyone could see plainly how much he is paying to support government services."

The sharp difference between business and government in selling service is that the government does not do it for profit, the speaker said.

"Land and building in Massachusetts cannot continue to pay the bill," Commissioner Long continued. "And the $25 tax limit is not the solution. The plan for $25 limit per thousand valuation on real estate is disillusion, a snare and dishonest. Today the average tax bill is less than any person would pay for rental of the same property in which he lives but I still believe the burden is too heavy."

"Another real danger is that cities and towns are acquiring parcels of land for countless projects and removing these parcels from the tax valuation so that the load is extended to the remaining real estate."

Protect Industry

"Massachusetts is primarily industrial and we should bear in mind that industry must be protected. Manufacturers bring in new money to the State through the sale of goods made here. New money must constantly be pumped into the State to keep up prosperity and growth because Massachusetts could not depend alone upon the sale of fish, wood from its forests, or revenue from tourists. Since we get more money in Massachusetts from manufactured goods sold outside the State we must support industry."

Must Assist Others

"Arlington is one of the communities in which I am proud to appear because it will be called upon to pay the bill for fifty other communities in the State which cannot at this time support themselves. Services must be performed by government in these communities, and Arlington cannot wall itself apart from these because it is dependent upon other communities. Remember, we are citizens of three layers of government, the town, the county, and the state. Arlington, fortunately, is a good town, it is compact, it is a good place in which to live and it has capable town officials, but it must continue to keep up these standards."

Massachusetts Sound

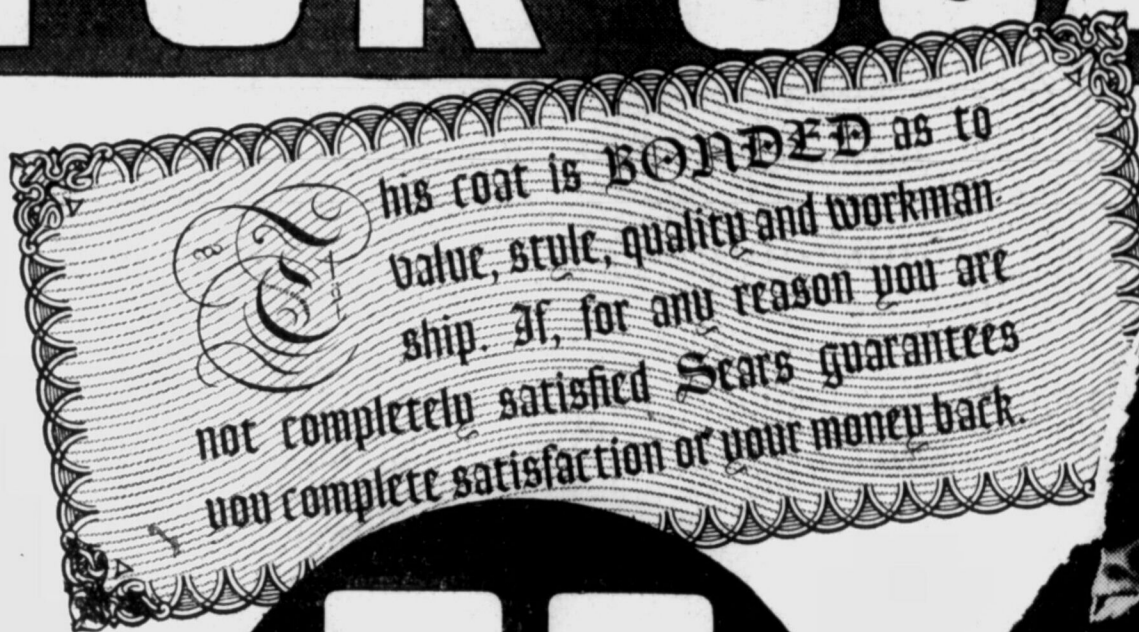

"Another consolation in Massachusetts is that every single year takes care of itself. All bills are paid before the end of each year and the State is not carrying over any unpaid bills. Massachusetts is unique in this policy."

"Let us remember that the people collectively have started out to provide an expensive form of government and this simply grew. There is nothing complicated about it. Taxation is simply the problem of getting money from our people to pay government costs. As soon as we can know what it costs us directly for government we will have reached the ideal situation. I advise that everyone give more thought to government, its cost and what activities of government requires the people's money. If you ever lose control of government reins and lose interest in government, then, and only then, you'll face disaster."
